

The videophone is the best things for deaf people. The reason it is the best thing is because they are more independent using videophone with the relay services than using tdd or tty when they need to make calls to doctors or bussiness. Most of the times when my wife need to make a calls to doctors or bussiness to take care with tdd, she has to depends on me to help her to understand english when they are communicating, but with the videophone and using the video relay service, she can communicate without needing my help and that is why it is the best thing for deaf people. There are lot of deaf people who can't do with the tdd because of their's poor understanding of english. It is unfair that we would have to pay for the phone bills and also for the high speed internet which cost $44.95 to able to use the videophone, they should able to pay for using videophone as like a phone bill instead of paying around $40.00 a month for the phone and also $44.95 a month for high speed internet for using videophone. Thanks for your time.
